

Remember when . . .

your mind was sharp and you never forgot a thing?

Mild memory problems are a natural result of aging. These problems affect the majority of adults over 50 and millions of younger adults as well. In fact the aging processes that lead to memory problems start as early as age 25. But memory problems are all too often associated with advanced age and viewed as a weakness. No wonder memory problems often undermine self confidence and self esteem.

Your once-daily MemoProve tablet can put a stop to these mild memory problems. You'll feel a noticeable improvement in memory, alertness and concentration...in just 30 days or your money back.

MemoProve can make a difference

I am 46 and a mother of 2. My parents suffered from severe memory problems and I have been concerned that the same fate awaited me. I am very sensitive and I could sense that my short term memory was already sliding. I then heard that MemoProve was clinically proven to help with memory problems. I started taking the product and also started taking some memory tests that I found online. In a few short weeks, I could see improvement on my memory test scores. I was amazed. I had finally found a product that could actually turn back the hands of time and improve my memory. My outlook on getting older has changed dramatically. I am much more optimistic about the future. I can't thank you enough for making such a life changing product.

Dear Valued Customer,

Based on the overwhelming response to MemoProve, we are launching a national advertising campaign. Instead of hiring actors to read prepared scripts, we are looking for MemoProve customers who are interested in sharing their stories. If you would like to be considered, just send us a letter that (1) describes your memory problems and (2) tells us about your experience with MemoProve. If we use your story in our advertising, we'll send you a 12 month supply of MemoProve FREE of charge.

MemoProve has made a big difference in the lives of many people. We'd love to hear how it changes yours. So we hope you'll be in touch.

Send your letter of testimonial to:
MemoMind Pharma, 225 Main Street, Suite 305 , Westport, CT 06880

Thank you for your order. Your better memory begins with one MemoProve a day.

Sincerely,
MemoMind Pharma

P.S. Tell us your MemoProve story! If we include it in our advertising, you'll receive a one-year supply of MemoProve for FREE! Please write soon.

Thank you for trying

Memo Prove™

You're not alone

Memory problems affect millions of adults. The problem can be compounded by factors other than age. Stress, hormonal changes, sleep deprivation, alcohol, drugs, smoking, and diet can also contribute. Memory problems can have a negative impact on your quality of life. Some might choose to accept this slowing down as unavoidable. But not you!

By ordering MemoProve, you have declared a commitment to maintain your youthful mental vitality. You want a sharp functioning memory to go along with your active lifestyle. And no matter how old you are today, you want that for the rest of your life.

Track your Progress

We're confident that MemoProve will improve your short-term memory, boost your alertness and restore your confidence. Now we want you to see it for yourself with our FREE Online Memory Test. If you haven't taken the test yet, do it today before you begin taking MemoProve. Then take the test again in 30 days. It's quick and easy. The results will speak for themselves.

You'll find the test at:

MemoProve is Safe and Well Tolerated

MemoProve's neuropeptides (N-PEP-12) are derived from natural protein sources. They consist of small chains of amino acids that are naturally present in all protein-rich foods. As a food-derived product, MemoProve is safe, well tolerated and has no drug interactions. Reassure yourself with a quick review of the ingredients listed on the packaging. You'll find MemoProve contains no herbs, yeast or stimulants.

Why does MemoProve work? N-PEP-12

Your breakthrough bio-tech weapon against age-related memory problems

MemoProve is the only memory product clinically shown to counter or prevent mild age-related memory problems with N-PEP-12. The difference is the blend of neuropeptides contained in N-PEP-12. It's so unique, we're having it patented.

In a recent published clinical study, MemoProve's N-PEP-12 formulation was shown to improve short-term memory by 15% in just 30 days.

This science-based dietary supplement works to protect and restore memory in two important ways:

- 1) protects brain cells and synaptic connections from processes that lead to memory problems
- 2) stimulates neurons and the formation of neuronal connections leading to memory improvement

There's nothing to lose! (except more memory function)
